I am sorry to report that we never got copies in paper or electronic of this newsletter before it ceased.

There was only 1 issue in 2000. No issues published after Volume VI, Issue 3 (2Q 2005) because of the hurricanes. A 3rd qtr 2007 issue was planned for a newsletter with a different name. Apparently it was never approved; as of 12/08, the OMV newsletter is "no longer available" on the agency website. This is not a state document but should be available in congressional hearings:

Louisiana Transparency and Accountability (LaTrac) is a new resource to make Louisiana's state government finances and operations transparent and accountable to Louisiana's citizens.
<http://wwwprd.doa.la.gov/latrac/index.cfm>. LaTrac contains data from the State's Financial Accounting System, AFS, and is presented by fiscal year, cumulative year to date. LaTrac data is derived directly from the General Ledger, and as such represents actual historical accounting data. The data on LaTrac is updated on a monthly basis with the most recent available complete month. The State Library will soon have a catalog entry for the web address with a link to the LaTrac but the database cannot be digitally archived.

The State Library catalog had no LaDoc number or an incomplete number in these records. The full LaDoc number has been added. If you have these state docs and derived the SLOL records, you may want to check the LaDoc number in your catalog record.

2008, LaMP is releasing interactive Preliminary Digital Flood Insurance Rate Maps (DFIRMs). Two of the 4 LaMP videos concern the mapping project.

The project team for the Louisiana Mapping Project (LaMP) consists of FEMA Region VI, the FEMA New Orleans Transitional Recovery Office, Mitigation Division and Michael Baker Jr., Inc. (Baker). FEMA has engaged Baker, a nationally known engineering firm, to assist in the development and dissemination of information to the Louisiana coastal stakeholder communities. Baker has selected two local Louisiana firms, Digital Engineering & Imaging, Inc., headquartered in New Orleans and G.E.C., Inc., headquartered in Baton Rouge, along with Christopher P. Jones & Associates, Bender Consulting Services, Inc. and Deveney Communication to assist FEMA in addressing questions and concerns as flood recovery data is released.

Somehow, the Recorder of Documents didn't collect copies of each type of material published for each Louisiana Book Festival, 2002- but some were distributed as depository documents. During August 2007 a few Tulane First Year Medical Students began doing outreach to homeless men and women protesting in Duncan Plaza. In talking with these men and women it became apparent that although there are plenty of free or low cost medical resources available, people still did not know where to go for care. The information provided on this website was made for and dispersed to homeless men and women to inform them where they could go for free medical care in New Orleans. This list, however, can be used by anyone to find free or low cost care in New Orleans or how to get some of your prescriptions for only $4. Please read the restrictions, as some services are only available for homeless men, women, or children.

Video Archive <<http://louisiana.gov/Explore/Videos/>> is the Louisiana.gov website rebroadcasting videos of state agencies. When I looked at some, the transmission was stop/go so unsatisfactory. I hope you have better viewing these. Now, we will check with the agencies to see about getting the videos as depository items.
