The Library of Congress wants to hear from you!

Beginning in early March, a sample of 10,000 reader/patrons across the country who currently use services provided by the Library of Congress's National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped—also known as NLS—will be invited to participate in a nationwide survey. The information collected from this survey will guide NLS as they move forward on a variety of projects to enhance and expand the braille and talking- book program. As a part of NLS's cooperating network of libraries, the Louisiana Talking Books and Braille Library encourages invited patrons to respond to the survey at their earliest convenience. Insights gathered from this survey will help us better understand the needs of all of our patrons. You may receive an invitation by mail, email, or phone. In order to ensure ease of use, readers selected for the survey will be given the option of responding in a number of ways to their invitation. Once you have received your invitation, if you have questions, please feel free to contact Gallup Support at galluppoll@gallupmail.com or call 1.888.297.8999.

Talking Book Topics on NFB Newsline

Go straight to the category of your choice. Select Adult Fiction or Non Fiction, Children's or Foreign language categories and NFB Newsline will read each article to you. Find a book you like, stop and take down the book number, and call your reader advisor. It's that easy. ## 18th Annual Senior Health Fair

On April 12, 2019, Volunteers of America Greater Baton Rouge (VOAGBR) will sponsor the 18th Annual Community-Wide Health Fair from 9:00 am to 12:00 pm at Oak Park Plaza Senior Community. Oak Park Plaza is located at 947 North Bon Marche Drive in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. There will be health screenings and educational information on topics such as eating well, staying active, and the importance of regular medical care to seniors in the community. The fair is open to the public. A representative from the Talking Books and Braille Library will be at this health fair.

EyeNote for iOS

EyeNote is a free mobile device application developed by the BEP (US Bureau of Engraving and Printing) as an aid for blind or visually impaired individuals to identify denominations of Federal Reserve notes from Series 1996 to the present. EyeNote is built on the Apple iOS platform and is available to download for free in the Apple App Store.

The app uses image recognition technology and the device's integrated camera to recognize a Federal Reserve note and communicate the note's denomination back to the user. Since it utilizes a continuous scan function, there is no need to hold the device still or capture a photo first; once the app scans the note, it denominates the currency. EyeNote will not identify counterfeit currency. For more information, visit: <https://www.eyenote.gov/>.

IDEAL Currency Identifier for Android Devices

The BEP, in collaboration with the Department of Education, assisted in the development of the IDEAL Currency Identifier, a free downloadable app that operates on the Android platform. It uses text-to-speech voice and advanced image recognition technology to read a note and, in a matter of seconds, provides users with an audible response indicating the note's denomination. IDEAL works locally on the device and needs no Internet connectivity. This application was not designed to, and does not, identify counterfeit currency. For more information, visit: <https://www.eyenote.gov/>.

New Title for BookTalks Discussion Group

We have selected a new title for BookTalks:

DB70410 The Sweetness at the Bottom of the Pie by Alan Bradley. Even though this mystery - set in the English countryside in 1950 - is an adult mystery, the main character and sleuth is an 11-year-old girl. But young Flavia de Luce is no ordinary girl, she is a savvy chemist who is fascinated with poisons. This award-winning debut novel has a decent plot, an engaging writing style, and interesting characters that make you want to read the rest of the series. Join Flavia as she sleuths through her village on her trusty bicycle trying to prove that her father is not guilty of murder.

How to Join BookTalks

We hold our book discussions via an email discussion list. Members comment on the book by sending an email to the discussion list. All members then see the comments and have the ability to respond by email to the group.

If you want to join our discussion group, go to: <http://pelican.state.lib.la.us/mailman/listinfo/tbblbooktalks> and create an account by entering your name (make sure to put your name so we can verify you), email address and make up a password or, as always, you can call your reader adviser. Hope to hear from you soon!

Patrons can enjoy even more titles through BARD!

NLS is pleased to offer readers an even greater selection of new audiobooks through our Braille and Audio Reading Download (BARD) site and on your Android or iOS mobile device with the BARD Mobile app. Thousands more titles are now being distributed exclusively through BARD. As our relationship with various major publishers grows, more audiobooks will become available. Though Talking Book Topics will continue to list the latest titles available on cartridge for delivery to your home, we encourage patrons to explore these BARD-exclusive titles by signing up for BARD or by contacting your reader advisor.

The Braille and Audio Reading Download (BARD) is a web-based service that provides access to thousands of braille and encrypted audio books, magazines, and music scores available from NLS. The service is available to registered users of the braille and talking book program through their local braille and talking book library. Once transferred onto a USB flash drive, downloaded talking books and magazines can be played on the digital talking-book machine provided free of charge by NLS. NLS does not provide equipment for displaying or embossing downloaded braille materials.

Braille books and magazines may be also downloaded through the BARD Mobile app, which requires connection to a refreshable braille display via a Bluetooth connection. The BARD website and mobile app are password-protected, and all files are in an electronically downloadable form of compressed audio or formatted braille.

Adult Summer Reading Program

The TBBL 2019 Adult Summer Reading Program will start May 1, 2019, and will run through August 31. The theme this year is “A Universe of Stories” and celebrates all things related to space exploration.

If you complete the program by reading 20 books, you will be entered into a drawing to win one of 25 digital talking alarm watches. Many thanks to the Jones Foundation for providing this year’s summer reading program prizes.

To sign up, simply contact your reader advisor and start reading! If you would like, we will mail you a reading log to keep track of the books you have read. Once you have read 20 books, call your reader adviser to let them know, and your name will be entered into the drawing for a digital talking alarm watch. If you have a reading log, you can return it to us by mail or call to give us the list over the phone.

Audio books, Braille, large print books and audio magazines all count. If you need any reading suggestions, please ask us; we are happy to help! One entry per person. We will choose 25 lucky winners from the list of those who have read at least 20 books. Happy reading!

Accessible PDFs of 2018 Tax Documents Now Available

The IRS has released accessible PDF versions of 2018 tax documents on its website at <https://www.irs.gov/forms-pubs/irs-section-508-compliant-pdf-forms>. Downloadable braille and large-print documents are still being developed. Please watch the main NLS website, at www.loc.gov/nls, for updates on when other accessible-format tax documents become available from the IRS.

Books and Beyond: A Section for Children and Teens

Summer Reading Program 2019

“A Universe of Stories” is this year’s slogan, and space is this year’s Summer Reading theme, celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Apollo Moon Landing. TBBL will offer four programs: Children’s, Teen’s, Teen’s STEM, and Read-To-Me.

Invitations will be mailed out April 15, 2019, and the program begins May 1, 2019. A gracious thank you to the Jones Foundation for providing this year’s Summer Reading Program prizes!

From Crib to Crayons

June 1, 2019 will start the second TBBL Early Literacy Program, Crib to Crayons, designed for children ages 0-6 who are not yet in kindergarten. During the year, six literacy packets will be sent to children and their parents. Each bi-monthly kit will be themed to focus on one of six early literacy skills: print awareness, phonological awareness, print motivation, letter knowledge, and vocabulary. Each packet will contain tips and strategies for developing pre-reading skills, including lists of resources and follow-up activities for parents.

There will also be props, craft instructions, and a carefully selected child’s book with tactile graphics or twin vision braille targeting the specific early literacy skill for the child to keep. Invitations will be mailed out April 15, 2019.

This program is made possible through the generous support of the Jones Foundation. Braille services are provided this year through the Louisiana Instructional Materials Center for the Blind and Visually Impaired, LIMC director Robyn King, and Braillest Nabiha Mujahid. For more information, contact the Children’s and Teen Services Librarian, Charlene Moore at
