Summer 2014

Welcome to BookTalks!

We are excited to announce our new book club, TBBL BookTalks! It will be held through an email discussion list so participants may interact by posting their comments and viewing other members' comments. Our first book is I am Malala by Malala Yousafzai (DB 77454). If you are interested in joining, please email Sarah Nelson at snelson@slol.lib.la.us, your full name and email address. Stay tuned for future titles!

Holiday Closings

Subscribe to magazines with BARD

You can now subscribe to magazines with Braille and Audio Reading Download. When you subscribe to a magazine, the latest issue of that magazine will be automatically added to your wish list for download. You can subscribe to as many magazines as you like and then unsubscribe at any time. You can also choose to receive email notifications when new issues of magazines are added to your wish list.

To subscribe to a magazine:

1. Log into your BARD account.
2. Go to the Magazines by Title combo box, which is just below the "Magazines by title" heading.
3. Choose a magazine.
4. Tab to the Go button, and press Enter. A page listing recent issues of your magazine opens. There is a level 1 heading at the top of the page with the same name as your chosen magazine.
5. Just above the magazine title heading is a Subscribe button. Press Space on this button to activate it. A screen opens notifying you that you have been subscribed. This screen also includes a "Back to magazine listing" link, which returns you to the main page for your magazine, and an "E-mail notification options" link.
 - a. If you choose the "Back to magazine listing" link, returning to the main page, you will find that the Subscribe button has become an Unsubscribe button. If you choose this button, new issues of this magazine will no longer be added to your wish list, and any issues on your wish list will be removed.

- b. If you follow the "E-mail notification options" link, focus will go to the "Update account settings" page, the same one you visit to change your email address or add a purchased player. You will find two new combo boxes on this page: "Always remove magazine issues that have been on my wish list for more than a year," and "Alert me by email when new issues of subscribed magazines are available." To change either of these settings, open the relevant combo box and choose yes or no.

We hope you will enjoy these new magazine features.

ABL 2014 State Convention

Affiliated Blind of Louisiana will host its 2014 state convention Oct. 2 – 5 at the Ramada Lafayette Conference Center, 2032 NE Evangeline Thruway, Lafayette.

ABL provides rehabilitation services through its Training Center. ABL was formed by a few individuals who were blind and visually handicapped. They believed achieving one's dreams should not be hindered by a disability. For more information about ABL or the upcoming convention, call 337.234.6492.

On Saturday, a Talking Books and Braille Library staff member will be available at the TBBL booth.

Louisiana Assistive Technology Access Network

The Louisiana Assistive Technology Access Network is a statewide nonprofit organization that connects seniors and individuals with disabilities to assistive technology that enables independence in employment, school and community living. LATAN serves Louisiana citizens of all ages with disabilities as well as limitations due to aging who need assistive technology and daily living aids, such as canes, wheelchairs, communication devices, hearing aids, keyboard alternatives, learning software and vision aids.

Assistive technology demonstrations are provided for individuals so that they can try out devices before making a final purchase. Device demonstrations increase consumers' ability to make an informed decision about the benefits, usefulness and appropriateness of the devices. LATAN serves all consumers by appointment only. To make an appointment, contact LATAN at 800.270.6185, cpourciau@latan.org or visit their website at latan.org.

New publication added to Newslines

The Verge is a new publication available through Newslines. If you enjoy technology, science, art or culture you may be interested in this magazine that includes elements of each. If you want to subscribe to Newsline and already have a Newsline account, call 800.234.4166 and select option 5, Newspapers in a Different State, in the main menu. Next select option 1, Breaking News Online. You may also visit theverge.com/. To sign up for Newsline service, call your reader advisor.

Talking prescription labels

Avoid mistakes by asking for talking prescription labels at your drugstore. These free labels are available at major retailers such as CVS, Walmart and Walgreens. Check with your pharmacy for details. You may need to order a free reader that will decode the label.

Maya Angelou, lyrical witness of the Jim Crow south, dies at 86

Maya Angelou died on Wednesday, May 28 in her home Winston-Salem, N.C. The memoirist and poet's 1969 landmark book "I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings" describes in lyrical, unsparing prose the author's girlhood in the Jim Crow South. It was among the first autobiographies by a 20th century black woman to reach a wide general readership.

TBBL has many of her works in its collection. Call your Reader Advisor for information or check the TBBL web catalog.

Books and beyond – a section for children and teens

Summer reading update

The last day of the Children's and Teen Summer Reading Program 2014 is Friday, August 29. This is the deadline to turn in your reading log and claim your free prizes! This year, everyone who turns in their completed reading log, by mail, fax, phone or email gets a free T-Shirt and a sports bag with this year's theme and logo. The minimum number of books required to complete the program is four. This includes audio books, large print books, Braille books and magazines. Call David Rainey, the Children and Young Adult Librarian, if you have any questions or would like to complete your reading log over the phone: 1.800.543.4702.

Math Melodies: a new iOS app to help blind or low vision children learn mathematics

EveryWare Technologies has announced the release of the first complete version of Math Melodies, a new app for the iPad that helps visually impaired children learn mathematics!

The app is now downloadable for free from the App Store at the following link: <https://itunes.apple.com/en/app/math-melodies/id713705958?mt=8>

Math Melodies is designed to overcome some of the challenges that children who are blind and sight impaired have to face in learning mathematics.

Math Melodies is aimed both at students who are blind or visually impaired: the audio feedback assists the child in practicing arithmetic exercises while sliding the finger over the tablet.

This first release is designed for first to the third grade (five - year - old to eight - year - old children), and includes six chapters of a tale, music, sounds and 12 different types of exercises.

If you have any questions please email EveryWare Technologies: accessibility@ew-tech.it

Free Seedlings Braille Books for Children's 2014 Book Angel Program for Visually Impaired Children

Register your child for two free books per year! This program was originally called "Anna's Book Angel Project" and named in memory of a 19-year-old girl who was killed by a drunk driver in 2001. Each year, registered children who are blind receive one free book in Anna's name. Now thanks to Seedlings' generous donors, blind children in the U.S. and Canada can receive two free Braille books per year! Just register your child or student by filling out the form at seedlings.org/bkangel2009.php. Call Seedlings Braille Books at: 1.800.777.8552 if you have questions about the Book Angel Program.

Jones Foundation elects new officers and board

The Mrs. W. Carruth Jones Foundation for the Blind and Physically Handicapped elected and installed officers and board members April 15 at the State Library.

Officers are: Philip K. Jones Jr., president, John Hill, treasurer and Shelia Coleman, secretary. Other board members are George Pugh, Frank Bains, Judy Najolia, Smitty Bolner, Grace Moore Scoggin and Jennifer Anjier.

Since the State Library budget has no money for books, the board voted to donate $2,000 for large print books. These books circulate to any Louisiana resident who is registered with the Louisiana Talking Books and Braille Library.

Support our TBBL Friends Organization

Since 1981, the Mrs. W. Carruth Jones Foundation has acted as a friends group for the Talking Books and Braille Library in the State Library of Louisiana. It provides a mechanism for accepting donations to enhance and support services to the blind and physically handicapped community statewide. It directly supplements the programs and initiatives of TBBL within the State Library. It is a primary sponsor of the State Library's large print collection, and TBBL's summer reading program and descriptive video collection. It also supports volunteer efforts in the area.

To contribute, make checks payable to the Jones Foundation and mail to the following address:

Mrs. W. Carruth Jones Foundation
1131 N. River Road
Port Allen, LA 70767

All donations are tax deductible. Anyone who makes a donation receives a one year membership in the Jones Foundation. For meeting information call Shelia Coleman at: 225.342.4942.
